Culminating Assessment: A paper and pencil assessment will be used to assess whether or not the students mastered the content. A rubric will be used for those lessons during which students were required to interpret primary sources.