

American Historical Association

THE PROFESSIONAL ASSOCIATION FOR ALL HISTORIANS

HOME ABOUT US MEMBERSHIP ANNUAL MEETING PRIZES & FELLOWSHIPS SUPPORT AHA JOBS & CAREERS PUBLICATIONS ADD'L RESOURCES

The American Historical Association (AHA) was founded in 1884 and incorporated by Congress in 1889 to serve the broad field of history. It encompasses every historical period and geographical area and serves professional historians in all areas of employment. Read more . . .

Please note: the AHA office is currently undergoing renovation; due to the construction, there will be a slight delay in the mailing of all ordered publications. We apologize for any inconvenience.

MEMBER SERVICES

Log in here to access member services.

Your user name is your last name. Your password is your membership number

Join Now

WHAT'S NEW

National History Center Congressional Breakfast Seminar Series

Professor Julian E. Zelizer of Boston University inaugurated the NHC Congressional Breakfast Seminar Series on April 18 with his talk, The Politics of Reform in Congressional History (pdf).

Statement on Standards of Professional Conduct

At its semi-annual meeting on January 6, 2005, in Seattle, Washington, the Council unanimously adopted sweeping revisions to the Statement, which has served as the gold standard for ethical conduct among historians since 1987.

Plagiarism: Curricular Materials for History Instructors

In response to growing concerns about student plagiarism, the Professional Division offers curricular materials prepared by Michael Rawson of the University of Wisconsin at Madison to help students understand and avoid plagiarism.

Press Release: 2004 Prize Winners Announced at Seattle Annual Meeting

QUICK LINKS

One-click links to the AHA web site's most popular pages

- Search job ads
- Submit a job ad
- Search Perspectives
- Advertising
- Affiliated Societies of the AHA
- Contact us
- AHA Leadership & Advocacy
- Book Awards and Fellowships
- Member directory
- Data on the historical profession
- AHA Constitution and Bylaws
- Statement on Standards of Professional Conduct
- Careers for Students of History: Online Edition

HIGHLIGHTED FEATURES

Perspectives May, 2005 Online

Issue no. 43: 5 is now available online!

History Doctoral Programs in the United States, 2004

This new resource offers a profile of history doctoral programs in the U.S., advice for applicants to PhD programs, and searchable databases on dissertations in progress and completed in those programs.

Seminar on Slavery and the Constitution

The Institute for Constitutional Studies at the George Washington University Law School, in cooperation with the Organization of American Historians, and the AHA, invites applications from college teachers and advanced doctoral candidates to attend its sixth annual summer seminar, Washington, D.C., June 12–24, 2005.

Rethinking America in Global Perspective

The AHA, the Community College Humanities Association, and the Library of Congress invite you to apply for "Rethinking America in Global Perspective," a summer institute funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities and designated a "We the People" project. The four-week institute will take place at the Library of Congress from

- Historians Committee For Open Debate

If you are looking for the Historians Committee for Open Debate, the address has changed to www.HistoryHappens.net.

The American Historical Association and the Historians' Committee for Open Debate are independent organizations and are not affiliated in any way.

Protecting the future for those who study the past!

June 20 through July 15, 2005. The George Washington University Department of History will co-sponsor the institute.

about us | membership | annual meeting | awards & fellowships | support aha | jobs & careers | publications | add'l resources

400 A Street, S.E., Washington, DC 20003-3889 | tel: (202) 544-2422 | fax: (202) 544-8307 | e-mail: info@historians.org

© 2005 American Historical Association