

philosophy, aesthetics, literature, language trends, breakthroughs

ideas, criticism, culture, history, music, art disputes, gossip

Arts & Letters Daily

A service of The Chronicle of Higher Education

Make us your homepage

Monday, June 20, 2005

VERITAS ODIT MORAS

Newspapers
Nota Bene
Magazines
Book Reviews
Columnists
Favorites
Weblogs
Radio News/
Music
Diversions
Classics
Google/Refdesk
RSS Feed

Breaking News

ABC / AP / BBC /
CBC / CBS /
CNN / Fox
News / Google /
MSNBC / NPR /
Reuters /
CBSMarkets

Newspapers
The Australian
Beirut Daily Star

Articles of Note

Intellectuals love Kurt Gödel. The trouble is, says Rebecca Goldstein, they take him 180 degrees in the wrong direction... more»

Comic strips often stay in their originators' families. The craft of cartooning makes it rather like a medieval guild... more»

Roosevelt made a martini for Stalin, apologizing for the lack of a twist. The next morning Stalin had a full-grown lemon tree flown in... more»

The glaciers of the Alps have shrunk to

New Books

“What did one know of him? He gave nothing away.” Eric Hobsbawm does give part of himself away. Not always the best part... more»

Henry Sidgwick spent his life on one of philosophy's most difficult problems: how can we be happy and at the same time pursue fairness?... more»

Essays and Opinion

Should Jews try to fit into the culture of America, even at the cost of violating Judaism's most sacred beliefs, or of vanishing altogether as an ethnic group?... more»

“No one is a mere instrument, no one a serf,” said Friedrich Schiller. Freedom was his highest ideal, achieved not with violence, but with education... more»

Liberty and responsibility really do go together, says Virginia Postrel. The more freedom we have, the more virtue in learning to make responsible choices... more»

For more than half a century, German

Boston Globe
CS Monitor
Chicago Tribune
Financial Times
Globe & Mail
Guardian / Observer
Ha'aretz
The Independent
Indian Express
Jerusalem Post
London Telegraph
London Times
Los Angeles
Times
Moscow Times
New York Times
New Zealand
Herald
SMH
USA Today
Washington Post

Nota Bene
Marx the greatest?

Father's Day
Ruse on evolution
Einstein's brain
Carlo Maria
Giulini R.I.P.
Darwin, me and the Big C
Haruki Murakami
Miracle drug?
M.J.'s hidden accuser
Loan rangers Fiction and social gap
Jerks at work almost nothing ten times since the last Ice Age, say researchers. Hannibal never even saw them... more»

Some art forgers try to enter the "soul and mind of the artist." Succeed or not, they can become very rich... more»

When Khomeini took over in Iran, no one welcomed the new power of radical Islam with such portentous lyricism as Michel Foucault... more» ... more»

Students, here's how to get to the top of the class: study, study, study. And if that doesn't work, then sue... more»

"What if Nietzsche (or Poe, or whoever) had taken Prozac?" Praise anti-depressants and sooner or later you're asked the question... more»

The American Black and Scots cultures are an ocean apart. But in Gaelic psalms and gospel singing they achieved a fusion... more»

To be a young Mozart

Sure, Billie Holiday's voice cracked in her last years and she lost buoyancy. But she was down to the true core of her art... more»

Is it possible to be both a man of science and a man of God? Yes, though it does not follow that people will be convinced by what you say... more»

Darlin Cromer, a white woman, kidnapped and strangled a 5-year-old black boy, hoping to ignite a race war. Was she mad? Seems not... more»

Christians on the socialist Left are unhappy to see a theology tailored to the booming markets in avarice, pride, and fear... more»

By the middle of this century, we may be as discussions of the Third Reich have focused unremittingly on the crimes of the Nazis. But the Nazis were not the only criminals... more»

Teratoma tumors are quite natural: a dense ball of teeth, hair, and skin, a ghastly grab bag of organs like some random Frankenstein. Perhaps the ugliest thing in medicine... more»

Arthur Miller had the curse of empathy, even for the enemy. Humans justify themselves, even bad humans, and he always wanted to know how and why... more»

On the day Terry Schiavo died the unthinkable questions could for the time being remain unthought. No longer need to confront them: just back to the old positions... more»

Postmodern Brad Pitt
In love with words
Indians can spell
Follow the money!
Samir Kassir R.I.

P.
Your male/female brain
“I’m Deep Throat”
What Wolfowitz faces
Femme couvrante
Forever Beethoven
Virtuous Canada!
Brand Hillary
Pulping the Koran?

Magazines

American Conservative
American Enterprise
American Heritage
American Journal
Rev
American Outlook
American Prospect
American Spectator
Art News Online
Artforum
Boston Globe
Ideas
Boston Review
The Bulletin
Chronicle Higher Ed
CIA Studies
City Journal

today is nothing like the 18th-century: “Then the market demanded such a talent; now, the market is hostile”... more»

Geeky teen Joel Clark, fingers flying over the keyboard, sits at his computer and goes for the kill. This is no video game... more»

You are what you eat, and that includes your brain. So what then is the ultimate mastermind diet?... more»

Fortune cookies must present ten-word sentences that are both precise and vague at the same time. Someone has to write them... more»

“The couple in the waiting room looked up at me. It was awkward. They were there to buy sperm, I was there to sell it”... more»

Let’s face it: if you are paying $28,000 a year for university study, you deserve to get all As. To be given a B is to be slapped in the face... more»

“Nobody ever saw a

blasé about genetically modified humans as we are about pierced ears... more»

Who was Jane Austen? Prig or rebel, Tory or Jacobin, the woman remains opaque. Yet readers feel a bond... more»

Oppenheimer was brought down by puny men with sordid motives. But he made bad political choices and then tried to obscure them... more»

North Korea is a bizarre mish-mash of Stalin, Confucius, ultra-nationalism, and hyper-elitism of the ruling class... more»

Can we travel in time? Is oil not a fossil fuel? Human evolution a fluke? Maybe cancer is an infectious disease. Calling all skeptics... more»

P.T. Barnum made a buck or two exhibiting the monkey-fish and other odd creatures. And he did not yet have TV or the genetics of tomorrow... more»

Mrs. Mortimer, Victorian lady, had stern views of foreign nations, such as the clumsiest people in Europe... more»

Jung Chang and Jon Halliday tear away the

Buy the paperback from Barnes & Noble or Amazon

Don Quixote shows us a new kind of terrain that came to define modernity: in it, very little is certain and much is lost... more»

“A form of reason,” wrote Pope Benedict “that can acknowledge only itself and the empirical conscience paralyzes and dismembers itself.” He meant Jacques Derrida... more» ... more»

Portrait of the artist as a young mess. Skill is out. What counts is a muddle of attitudes, theories, and press releases from hot galleries... more»

“Unhappy women! How many of them I’ve known,” writes Edmund White. “Sniffing or drinking with big reproachful eyes”...

Columbia Journal
Rev
Commentary
Common-place
Cross Currents
Discover
Dissent
The Economist
Far East Econ Rev
FAZ Weekly
First Things
Foreign Affairs
Foreign Policy
The Gramophone
Granta
Hoover Digest
Hudson Review
In Character
Independent
Review
In These Times
Le Monde Diplo
Monthly Review
Mother Jones
Ms. Magazine
The Nation
National Journal
National Review
New Criterion
New Humanist
New Left Review
New Republic
New Scientist
New York
Magazine
New York
Observer
New York Press
NY Times
Magazine
New Yorker

dog make a fair and deliberate exchange of one bone for another,” wrote Adam Smith. But capuchin monkeys... more»

The 14-volt power grid from your car’s battery is giving way to a new 42-volt grid. We are at the start of an electrical revolution... more»

Not one business founded in France in the past 40 years has broken into the ranks of the 25 biggest French concerns, while in the U.S... more»

China has been preoccupied in the 20th century with a sense of weakness, insecurity, and humiliation – feelings it must overcome... more»

Can everyday rudeness be seen as putting us on a road to Auschwitz? Some memorial museums want to make such connections... more»

Dietrich Fischer-Dieskau: “It is not good to be 80. I did not like being 70, and I like being 80 even less. It is the start of the final episode”... more» masks and lies to reveal the true face of Mao: one of the great monsters of the 20th century... more»

“Hitler and his generals are not so foolish as to start a two-front war,” Stalin said. “Hitler would never risk it”... more»

Isidor Rabi called him an enemy of humanity; he captivated Ronald Reagan. Between the two extremes stood the real Edward Teller... more»

Religion is the key to history, Lord Acton wrote. But in some parts today, it’s more like the skunk at the garden party... more»

Physicist Erwin Schrödinger was, whether cat lover or not, a muddled, cowardly, and self-deluding human being... more»

To think that Beluga caviar was once dismissed as fodder for poor folk, pigs and cats, or tossed in the garbage... more»

Most utopias map an odorless, antiseptic future, intolerably streamlined and sensible, with splendid plumbing... more»

Of all murderers, observes P.D. James, the secret poisoner has always been regarded with particular

more»

Just as hypocrisy is the compliment vice pays to virtue, so, Christopher Hitchens thinks, “bipartisanship” is a smarmy tribute and parody of American diversity... more»

With Beethoven, music did not grow up, it regressed to adolescence. He was a hooligan who could reduce Schiller’s Ode to Joy to madness, bloodlust, and megalomania... more»

Hungry, terrorized children of Africa are again called upon to rescue the sagging reputations of a needy group of balding, clapped-out rock stars... more»

Imagine trying to capture on film Heidegger’s “political metaphysics of the homeland and its failed, deadly ideology of autochthonic exclusion.” Cut!... more»

Want that rebate on your appliance purchase? Easy! Simply fill out this form. There are a few requirements. And we don’t just mean your mother’s maiden name... more»

“A single verse by Rimbaud,” writes Dominique de Villepin, the new French PM, “explodes

Newsweek
Philosophers' Mag Philosophy &
Literature
Philosophy Now
Physics Today
Poets & Writers
Policy
Policy Review
The Progressive Prospect
Public Interest
Quadrant Reason
Salon Scientific American
Sign and Sight
Skeptical Inquirer
Slate
The Spectator
Der Spiegel
Threepenny
Review
Tikkun
Time Magazine
US News
Utne Reader
Village Voice
WSJ Opinion
The Walrus
Washington
Monthly
Weekly Standard
Wilson Quarterly
Wired

Book Reviews
BBC Books
Books & Culture
Bookforum

When Charles Dickens and Hans Christian Andersen met, they delighted in each other's company. But things soured... more»

Liberal parents who tolerate sex, drugs, and rock are hard to shock. Here's an idea: why not become a Neo-Nazi?... more»

Many on the Left now think that after years of relying on courts to expand legal rights, it's time to go to the court of public opinion... more»

Umberto Eco made his name and fortune as thinking man to the masses. Not that you'd understand what he rattles on about most of the time... more»

Suppose they invent a drug that enables your child to learn to play piano quickly and easily. Would you give your kid the piano pill?... more»

James Dean was lucky, dying before he could fail, before he lost his hair or his boyish figure, before he grew up... more»

abhorrence... more»

John Carey: the rare academic critic who writes shrewdly and wittily on books and ideas. His favorite tool might be called Occam's Machete... more»

For Søren Kierkegaard each person was engaged in an individual quest for truth in the stages along life's way... more»

Christopher Hitchens writes with an elegiac sense that we come after a line of political and literary giants. We won't see their kind again... more»

Spitting on traditional social rules may win an intellectual his bohemian spurs. So is this what unskilled workers and welfare recipients need?... more»

History of ideas has a history of its own, and it is not long. It begins with Francis Bacon... more»

A history of barbed wire may well be all about "structures of power and violence." But then again, so may be a history of shoelaces... more»

Ought English departments to be abolished? A recent guide to literary theory makes the notion rather all limits, draws the eyes to other heavens." So okay, Rimbaud, meet Rambo... more»

Mark Felt was convicted by Carter's DOJ for illegal searches, but was pardoned by Reagan. What if Reagan had known he was Deep Throat? John Dean wonders... more»

"Atheism Lite," seeks to negotiate a truce between religious and pagan world views. It's feeble balderdash, argues Salman Rushdie... more»

What made hunter-gatherers into such effective participants in the market society? It's the ability to calculate and to act in reciprocity, says Paul Seabright.. more»

Getting the NY Times to explain social class in America is like giving your parents exclusive license to explain sex to you: too many deep conflicts prevent a reliable account... more»

Low self-esteem among girls is a big problem, says the Girl Scouts. The solution: "Uniquely ME!" tells girls of their own "amazing" specialness. Plus, the "Me-O-Meter"... more»

Inheritance tax has been

Boston Globe
Books
Chicago Trib
Books
Chronicle Review
Claremont Review
Common Review
Complete Review
CS Monitor Books
Globe & Mail
Books
Guardian Lit News
Guardian Books
Independent
Books
January Magazine
Kirkus Reviews
London Review
London Times
Books
Los Angeles Times
Melbourne Age
New Republic
Books
NYRB
NY Times Books
Newsday Books
Philly Inquirer
Books
Salon Books
SF Chronicle
Books
Spectator Books
Telegraph Books
The TLS
Village Voice
Washington Post
Washington Times
Wilson Quarterly
Yale Book

Imagine being a movie star all your life, and barely as a matter of choice. Could be a vastly annoying prospect... more»

Gerhard Schröder's political death, says Charles Hawley, will force some warm air on frozen relations between the U.S. and Germany... more»

Mathematicians move around in a reality parallel to the rest of us: they see numbers where we see words, equations where we see poetry... more»

Philosopher Paul Ricoeur, who wrote about metaphor, time, and the best way to live, is dead at age 92... more» ... more» ... more» ... more»

Lucian Freud's pitiless view of a tangled armpit, of pubic hair and raw genitalia, sits oddly alongside his bashfulness... more»

"The net interprets copyright as damage and routes around it." The Chinese government is doing a great job of disproving this theory... more»

appealing to one critic... more»

God's handiwork it may be, but who really likes the dark of night except vampires and people with sensitive retinas?... more»

Does time in the end defeat our attempts to fix reality, facts? Maybe, but Simon Blackburn is not yet ready to ditch the idea of truth... more»

Can all stories, from the Epic of Gilgamesh to Hamlet to Red Riding Hood and Lord of the Rings, be reduced to seven basic plots? Likely not... more»

Consumerism to its critics means the foolish masses are not using their money to buy the gloomy, learned books that those critics write... more»

Sloth is not a word much used nowadays: people are lazy or indolent or a total slacker. But if sin still exists, so does sloth... more»

If Russia were ever to solve its problems, three groups would suffer most: corrupt traffic cops, oligarchs, and satirists... more»

Tackling the pro-pimp lobby. Can Catharine MacKinnon fight the most progressive part of the U.S. tax system: the wealthy few, if they won't give their money to charity, cannot pass all of it to their heirs... more»

Freedom from complete disaster was the standard for a good concert a century ago. Thanks to sound recording, perfection is now the standard. Is music better off?... more»

Karl Marx's lost Manifesto for the age of the iPod and the second home has recently been recovered. The class struggle is over. You won. David Brooks explains... more»

Eastern Europe could not be saved with diplomacy, and military action was inconceivable, says Arthur Schlesinger Jr. This was what FDR faced at Yalta... more»

What is the least damaging way to tax the media and entertainment industry? But wait. Why not find the most damaging way? P.J. O'Rourke has some advice... more»

Individualism animates the west, now more than ever, says Martin Jacques. But Japan is a dense lattice-work of obligations in family, workplace, school, and community... more»

Review

Columnists

Eric Alterman
Anne Applebaum
Timothy Garton
Ash
Bruce Bawer
Alex Beam
James Bowman
Robert Boynton
Samuel Brittan
David Brooks
Art Buchwald
William F.
Buckley
Jon Carroll
Noam Chomsky
Alexander
Cockburn
Joe Conason
Miranda Devine
E. J. Dionne Jr.
Michael Dirda
Maureen Dowd
Roger Ebert
Michael Elliott
Robert Fisk
Thomas Friedman
Robert Fulford
Frank Furedi
Malcolm Gladwell
Ellen Goodman
Victor Davis
Hanson
Johann Hari
Jeet Heer
Nat Hentoff
Jan Herman
Jim Hightower Christopher

EuroDisney, Freedom Fries – how much worse can U.S./E.U. relations get? Well, how 'bout Google digitizes the libraries of Europe... more»

Kick first, ask questions later: martial arts films were once seen as a minor diversion. Today they are much more... more»

In baseball, “It ain’t over till it’s over,” but it will end, later or sooner. In mathematics things aren’t so simple... more»

The first Godzilla showed up in Flammarion’s 1886 Earth history: an Iguanodon taking his lunch from the fifth floor of a Paris apartment... more»

After years of AIDS fear, life is less inhibited. Syphilis is up by 400% in the past five years in NYC. Gay men account for virtually all the rise... more»

“Women and men are set to become more alike in today’s liberated, unisex inequality by controlling men’s fantasy lives?... more»

Dashing, leaping, pratfalling, catapulting, being flattened by bullies. Or taking a motion picture camera apart. Buster Keaton could do it all... more»

A German Shakespeare, Dante, and Pushkin rolled into one, Goethe is a randy iconoclast, a pure spirit who made language dance... more»

The modern European family system is based at its core on romantic freedom. Is this idea bound to spread across the world?... more»

The contemptuousness of Thomas Frank’s analysis of gullible red-state voters does not make it wrong. They may well be “deranged”... more»

Plan as you may, prepare to be disappointed: there is an iron law of failure which governs all human effort... more»

From the political low of Suez in 1956 to the aesthetic high of the Beatles, 1960s Britain at last figured out how to enjoy life... more»

“Germany, Faithful Friend

As the fog of literary theory begins to lift, we can more clearly see that novelists actually show us human reality, says Morris Dickstein... more»

A continuously renewing society needs to foster innovative, versatile, and self-renewing men and women. For Keith Thompson that means leaving the Left behind... more»

The creationists are at it again in Kansas, and Richard Dawkins has a word or two for them. Creationism, after all, is God’s gift to the ignorant... more»

“You get arts journalists together these days,” says Doug McLennan, “and it’s what they talk about: their declining influence.” Is criticism on a slide?... more»

The preening, orotund pomposity of your typical U. S. senator is no match for the feisty, uniquely repellent George Galloway, M.P.... more» ... So who is this Galloway chap?

Rock music is so “antithetical to the Christian concept of redemption and freedom” must be excluded

Hitchens
David Horowitz
Molly Ivins
Jeff Jacoby
Leon Jaroff
Robert Kagan
Tony Karon
Mickey Kaus
Michael Kinsley
Joe Klein
Martin Kramer
Morton Kondracke
Chas
Krauthammer
Paul Krugman
Howard Kurtz
Norman Lebrecht
John Leo
James Lileks
Kevin Maney
Salim Mansour
Paddy
McGuinness
Mark Morford
Robert Novak
Brendan O'Neill
Daniel Pipes
Katha Pollitt
Virginia Postrel
William Powers
Dorothy Rabinowitz
Jonathan Rauch
Roger Sandall
William Shawcross
Sam Smith
Thomas Sowell
Mark Steyn
Andrew Sullivan
Tunku

world.” What codswallop! Let’s read a little fiction with David Sexton... more»

It’s brutal, the poetry world. Corruption, back stabbing, fraud – much of it exposed by a chipper and rather dangerous librarian... more»

Will the 21st century end up smokeless? Will smoking be re-glamorized as the bad habit of a few criminal holdouts?... more»

Rudeness among the young is now endemic in Japan. Why, they cross their legs on the subway and even eat in public. As for umbrellas... more»

Britons consume online music in a big way. But why are only 4% of the downloads initiated by women?... more»

Einstein’s $E=mc^2$ is like all great equations: it’s a magic trick. You start with one thing and then transform it into something quite different... more»

What distinguishes “a clump of cells in a of the Soviet Union.” That’s what Russian soldiers had been told, so they mothballed their tanks and howitzers... more»

Tallulah Bankhead: a star more than an actress, a personality more than a star, a celebrity almost before the idea existed... more»

Hollywood and New York are fading as creative capitals of the world. The action’s moving to Sydney, Dublin, and maybe even Tallinn, Estonia... more»

Is homework worth it? Maybe kids who fire up video games when they come home from school will end up just as smart. Or smarter... more»

“The writer must not allow himself to be transformed by institutions.” Jean-Paul Sartre really meant it, and turned down the Nobel Prize... more»

Sleeping with the enemy is not women’s biggest problem; it’s getting the enemy to take out the trash and do the laundry and dishes... more»

In the film Iris, he came off as befuddled and cuddly. But the furry paws of the real John Bayley hide the sharpest of talons... more» from the Church “on principle,” Pope Benedict once wrote... more»

“He was a strange and great human being,” said Goethe. “Every week he was a new man, each more perfect than the last.” Friedrich Schiller is a new man still... more»

Many who will never read George Eliot are now familiar with a version – or a dilution – of Middlemarch by way of television. How bad is this?... more»

“It is not moral absolutism,” writes Norman Mailer, “but theological relativism we would do well to explore if our real need is for a God with whom we can engage our lives”... more»

Chess was once linked with the cold war and the Soviet Union’s giant investment in the game. That sense of menace is now gone, and with it a certain fascination... more»

If a prisoner has gold teeth, he’s a drug dealer, if he’s reading Wittgenstein, he’s in for fraud. Now literary fraud is rather different... more»

When the cannons roar the muses are silent: war and art cannot coexist. Oh,

Varadarajan
David Warren
Margaret Wente
George Will
Jonathan Yardley
J. Peder Zane

Favorites

Art & Cognition
Andante
Beliefnet
Big Eye Butterflies & Wheels Context
CounterPunch
Daily Gusto
Debka File
Drudge Report Economic Principals Edge
Ethics & Policy
Eurozine
Exquisite Corpse
FrontPage
Globalist
Greenhouse Fiasco
I Want Media
Ifeminists Improbable
Research
Killing the Buddha
Logos
MediaNews
MEMRI
Mr. Beller's 'hood Nationmaster Nerve
New Partisan Newtopia

petri dish” from “early human life”? You might ask a scientist – or perhaps a novelist... more»

Nature vs. nurture, women vs. men, Summers vs. his faculty. And now to debate the issues face to face, Steven Pinker vs. Elizabeth Spelke... more»

What with the internet and all, fewer newspapers are being bought by folks. Fools! Don't they realize that you can't swat a fly with a computer?... more»

He's either a plain-spoken man who is right for the U.N. or a bad choice at the wrong time. John Bolton is one or the other... more»

The posterior hippocampi of the brains of average London cabbies grow the more years they clock up on the job. As for Tibetan monks... more»

They began as “chow-chows” for Chinese laborers. Today there are three times as many Chinese

Steven Levitt aims to show us the freakish truth about the way the world actually is, whether we like it or not... more»

The Butcher of Amritsar. Gen. Dyer wanted to shoot a few hundred unarmed civilians in 1919, and he needed the right troops for the job... more»

Young men attracted to the excitement of being a part of a select fugitive family, seeking adventure, purpose. Perfect chaps for al Qaeda... more»

Semi-capitalist China will not replay Soviet censorship, but free spirits in China are still short of enjoying free speech. Witness Mo Yan... more»

No matter how intelligent the students, generous the salary, lovely the setting, or light the teaching load, academics are always unhappy... more»

Every loopy idea he ever had has been vindicated. Maybe Einstein's biggest gamble, his repudiation of quantum theory, will be too... more»

Not just an intellectual, Josef Stalin was a compulsive editor who corrected for style and grammar any manuscript really? Consider art born against a backdrop of anti-aircraft fire in World War II... more»

Jared Diamond's rhetoric of risk and collapse does not convince:he gives only one side of the balance sheet, ignoring the human benefits that go with environmental damage... more»

Should the Runaway Bride pay for the time wasted by police searching for her? But those hours of police time were wasted before she broke any law... more»

Deliver us from Wal-Mart. The Lord rebukes “those who defraud laborers of their wages” as well as those who “failed to pay the workmen who mowed the fields”... more»

A polarized electorate? That's what many observers would say of U.S. voters after the election of 2004. Alan Wolfe is not sure the differences are all so deep... more»

The Germans at least learned a thing or two from the Second World War. The British, on the other hand, still prefer to wallow in triumphalism. Time for them to grow up... more»

Star Wars movies: Post-hippie, pre-New Age, a

Nthposition
Obscure Store
Open Democracy
Opera Critic
Overlawyered
The Page
Paris Review
Project Syndicate
Quackwatch
Romenesko Science/
Creationism
Shakespeare Web
Skeptic's Dictionary
Snopes
Social Issues Centre
Spiked-Online
Tech Central Station
TomPaine Words Without Borders

Weblogs

Armavirumque
Atrios
Adam Baer
Becker and Posner
Two Blowhards
Crooked Timber
Lawrence Solum
Scott Campbell
Josh Chafetz
The Corner
Crumb Trail
Brad DeLong
A.C. Douglas Instapundit Marginal

restaurants in the U.S. as McDonald's outlets... more»

World War II had an enormous influence on the place of technology in our lives, from air travel to microwave ovens... more»

Most conspiracy theories rely on eyewitness testimony. Take for instance that fluffy white dog sitting next to JFK when he was shot... more»

The Flynn Effect: human beings are genetically the same stock as ever, but across the earth IQs have been rising for a hundred years... more»

The Public Interest is closing, and founders Irving Kristol and Nathan Glazer reflect on the magazine that spawned the neocons... more» ... more»

David Horowitz: single-minded, feisty, and like many a prof, a man who loves to lecture. He wants open universities for people like himself... more»

Fewer than one in ten climate scientists thinks climate change that crossed his desk... more»

Jared Diamond seems to think that the entire planet is headed for a Malthusian crisis. But is this view defensible?... more»

Russians once ruled half the world. Today their economy is still slightly larger than that of Los Angeles County... more»

Ludwig Wittgenstein scorned the science of aesthetics, but still thought philosophy ought only to be written as a form of poetry... more»

Salvador Dalí's paintings show his feeling for a crust of bread, the soft light of dawn or dusk, the brilliant sun of a summer afternoon... more»

Poet Jorie Graham's resumé is impressive, but her kudos were not bestowed by Apollo: they were handed out by regular old human beings... more»

Lit professors routinely assure us they "love language," but only the rarest of them prove it by their own writing. Camille Paglia is one who can... more»

Schoenberg hoped the 12-tone row would keep bathetic mix of teddy bear warriors and a Muppet Zen master, plus the kitschiest pseudo-revelation in modern cinema... more»

Try these fun hoaxes! Order chili in a restaurant and when served angrily complain that there is no human finger in your chili, despite the fact that you asked for one. Or... more»

The media treat the Vatican as an alluring postage-stamp monarchy, a mini-Monaco with nice old chaps in splendid regalia. We should think a little deeper... more»

More French collaborated with the Germans than resisted in the 1940s. But quiet, please. Don't contradict the lovely legends of World War II... more»

In the sweatshops of Africa and Asia, workers toil for meager pay to sew clothes for the rest of us. Better than whoring or picking garbage, perhaps, except... more»

"I don't worry about right-wingers on AM radio," says Garrison Keillor. Their audience is stuck in rush-hour traffic, and hating liberals is not as bad as road rage... more»

Revolution
Healing Iraq
IWF Inkwell
Irascible Professor
Steven Johnson
Brothers Judd
Brian Leiter
Little Green
Footballs
Derek Lowe
Iain Murray
Nathan Newman
New Partisan
Rose Nuñez
PejmanPundit
Michael Phillips
Political Animal
The Revealer
Alex Ross
Lib Samizdata
Sounds and Fury
Talking Points
Memo
Ruy Teixeira
Three Quarks
Daily
Eve Tushnet
The Valve
Volokh
Conspiracy
Will Wilkinson
James Wolcott
Wonkette
Carl Zimmer

Radio News
NPR Hourly
News:
RealAudio
24hr Stream:
Windows

is caused mainly by humans. Huh? Where'd you read that? Not in Science, not in Nature... more»

Michael Ruse believes those who now reject Darwinism will accept it when they realize it doesn't threaten their social and spiritual values... more»

Vaudeville's ghost haunts the television screen to this day. Vaudeville may be dead as a stage art, but Requiescat in video... more»

Promoters and musicians worry about how to sex up the staid world of classical music. Here is an idea: try sex... more»

Give little boys and little girls a choice of toy cars or dolls: is what they reach for dictated by culture? Okay, now try it with vervet monkeys... more»

The long-term fate and future of Taiwan is being twisted by manipulative great powers and murky local politics, argues Wang Chaohua... more»

German music dominant for another century. How wrong he was, writes Richard Taruskin... more»

Soccer fandom can be an outlet for values forbidden by polite society. It's a perfectly healthy safety valve... more»

Abolitionist visionary, a man who saw feminism before its time, eloquent speaker, and also violent terrorist. Weird John Brown... more»

Horrifying. Thomas Friedman is let loose to ruminate for 500 pages on the theme of flatness. Like letting a chimp loose in the NORAD control room... more»

Lisbon, Warsaw, and Naples vie for the title of grimmest city in Europe. But they'll never match Istanbul, says Orhan Pamuk... more» ... more»

"Come writers and critics who prophesize with your pen," urged Bob Dylan in Times They Are A-Changin'. They came, and keep coming... more»

South Park is a vulgar, coarse, and fully offensive television program. So why are so many political conservatives tuning into it?... more»

A tolerance for eccentricity and a sharp sense of irony were once deep features of the British character. No longer: today Britain prefers utopian dreams... more»

As the government TV newsman was reporting the Ukraine election victory of Pres. Yanukovych, the deaf signer in the corner of the screen told another story: "It's all lies"... more»

A glint of light on a barbed wire fence, the synchronized turn of a flock of starlings, or a dark moon can knock you across the room when described by Annie Dillard... more»

Thirty years after the war, Vietnam has never acknowledged the exodus of a million Vietnamese, the "boat people," says Pham Thi Hoài. It is as if they are excommunicated... more»

There are as many Second World Wars as there are countries that fought in it. In these matters, history tends to get buried in mythology, argues Adam Krzeminski... more»

Hans Christian Andersen created a world that had no inanimate objects. Every pebble and weed, every scab on a stone fence was

C-SPAN Streams:

RealAudio/Windows

BBC World Service:

Bulletins: RealAudio

24hr Stream: RealAudio

CBC Radio One: Windows

Australia ABC: RealAudio/Windows

VOA News: RealAudio

World Radio Network: WRN Schedules Windows streaming

Public Radio Fan

Radio Music

BBC 3 Real

LyricFM Ireland Real

CBC 2 Windows

Virgin Classic Windows

KBPS Classic Real

KING Windows

KUSC Real/Windows

WGUC Real

Cool Blue Windows

WWOZ Jazz

In Peru, Sicily, or Iraq, as you read this some criminal is using a backhoe, chainsaw, shovel, or crowbar to destroy a priceless piece of antiquity... more»

“Wherever the Catholic sun doth shine / There’s always laughter and good red wine.” Or maybe a stein of Bavarian beer... more»

Those know-it-all of Malibu and Manhattan, the liberal elite sip their lattes and lord it over the peasantry. Thomas Frank analyzes a perception... more»

Poor Genghis Khan: he uses the most intelligent strategies, conquers armies of the world, and in the end gets played by John Wayne... more»

Appointment in Samarra was a big hit for John O’Hara. But as his fame and wealth grew, so did the quality of his fiction decline... more»

The Colombian and the Korean happily chat away in what they think is English – but Movie out of focus, image dingy in that new multiplex? If you complain, they’ll insist they are fine and you need glasses. Liars... more»

Can Western democracies live without “the transcendent moral reference points for ordering public life that Christianity offers?”... more»

The Noodle Maker, like The Master and Margarita, uses wild imagination, man’s most subversive tool, to undress political repression... more»

When the U.S. invaded Iraq its popularity dropped everywhere except in France, where it was already so low it could fall no further... more»

If you’re the Times food critic, the restaurant treats you like royalty, of course. If you’re an English teacher from Saginaw... more»

Teller and Oppenheimer: two men, both of them insecure, cruel, hungry for power, and holding the world’s future in their hands... more»

America likes to talk about family values. Europe doesn’t just talk: it uses tax monies to pay for alive, writes Harold Bloom... more»

For Antoine Saint-Exupéry, flying at night, each tiny light on the ground was a sign of consciousness: “the flame of the poet, the teacher, or the carpenter”... more»

“Enlightenment is man’s leaving his self-caused immaturity,” Kant wrote in 1784. The perfect literary exemplar of this ideal was Don Quixote... more»

Redneck culture is a major handicap for all who absorb it. Liberals don’t celebrate its white exponents. Nor, says Thomas Sowell, should they celebrate black rednecks... more»

With its ancient coins, astrolabes, sea shells, library, and exploration chronicles, what does the British Museum’s oldest room have to do with Liberace?... more»

Capitalism has not destroyed the legacy of Bertholt Brecht. For that we can thank the hagiographic, banal, and fussily philological books and articles of academics... more»

Savor that extra croissant, pour that fourth glass of wine. Mother Nature

Windows

Diversions

Scarlatti Sonatas

Bad Writing

Contest

Blackjack

Daily Crossword

Darwin Awards

Dilbert

Leno, Letterman

jokes

The Onion

Poetry Daily

Postmodern

Generator

Smoke-Free

Carmen

Wine Lovers'

Page

Classics

Francis Fukuyama

on the End of History

Amartya Sen on

Democracy

Robert Kagan on

Power and

Weakness

New York Review of Books, vol. 1

no. 1

The Russian

Empire, 1910, in full color

Andrew Delbanco

you can't grasp a word.

What tongue are they speaking?... more»

Many authors toil to get out a few sentences in an hour. Other damnable types can pen 3000 words in a sitting. What kind of people are they?... more»

The tsunami generated many a horror story out of Thailand. So does the Thai sex trade. Is this nation really "the brothel of the world"?... more»

Ukraine's Orange Revolution is bound to have a direct impact on Putin's moves to oppose democracy. Having a free press next door... more»

"We're trying to turn this thing around," says the head of Black Studies. But college programs like hers struggle to attract students... more»

Lost writings of Sophocles, Hesiod, and Euripides have been recovered in just the past few days and more is on the way. "Astounding"... more»

Adjust disposable family values... more»

Do you secretly desire some Hollywood heartthrob?

Sure, you're a pitiable creep, but there are people even more pathetic than you... more»

No city has burned in nuclear fire since Japan in 1945. This would have come as a surprise to Robert Oppenheimer... more»

Actresses and whores: it seems we're ambivalent not just about prostitutes, but theatre and film workers, too... more»

Samuel Johnson hated slavery and so despised Americans. "How is it that we hear the loudest yelps for liberty among the drivers of Negroes?"... more»

"Studying Ronald Reagan is not for the faint-hearted – or the untenured." Gil Troy knows the rewards, and the dangers... more»

Literary works are never fully intelligible in themselves. They belong to a global literary space, subject to its rivalries... more»

Far from advancing materialist tyranny, neurobiology is now doesn't want you thin as a rail. She wants you like that nice Mr. Brooks: just a little bit plump... more»

As Aristotle might say, sex should be pursued with the right person, for the right reason, at the right time, in the right way, and to the right degree. Can this be lust?... more»

There was no good military reason to destroy Dresden and Hiroshima and incinerate 100,000 souls. The motive for these unspeakable raids was to teach Stalin a lesson... more»

Susan Sontag, Johnny Carson, Saul Bellow, Hunter Thompson, George Kennan, Philip Johnson, Prince Rainier, Andrea Dworkin, the Pope: a vintage year for obituary writers... more»

The population depletion of Europe along with Muslim immigration makes a big problem for Christianity. Maybe a certain former cardinal has a way to deal with it... more»

From "Thank God!" to "Oh my God!" reactions to Pope Benedict XVI are rolling in from all over ... Andrew Sullivan ... Michael Novak ... E.J. Dionne ... Jack Miles ... Charles on the Death of Lit Crit

Keep computers
out of classrooms

Newsweek on the threat of Global Cooling

Julian Simon, Doomsayer

Martha Nussbaum
on Judith Butler

George Orwell:
the English language

World's Worst
Editing Guide

The Fable of the Keys

The Snuff Film:
an urban legend

Google/Refdesk

Google
Refdesk
Arts Journal
SciTech Daily Dictionary/
Thesaurus CEO Express Yahoo

income for the cost of living and it turns out Norwegians are among the poorest
folk in Western Europe... more»

If Americans come from Mars and Europeans come from Venus, what is the home planet of the Japanese? Saturn?...
more»

It is not tariffs and quotas that will save American jobs against a Chinese threat, but hard work and innovation... more»

Pleistocene porn:
sculptures from the Stone Age indicate that our ancestors had rather fevered sexual imagination... more»

Andrea Dworkin, theorist of rape and pornography, a woman loved and loathed, has died at the age of 58...

Wash Post ...
Guardian ... NYT ...
NY Sun ... London
Times ...
Independent ... Slate ...
Yahoo ... Telegraph ...
Salon ... Susie
Bright ... Katha
Pollitt ... Cathy Young

Pet theories: dogs act

starting to provide us with a deeper grasp of what human freedom is about... more»

Not easy to stomach
someone who sees herself
as the red-hot center of the universe, even if she is so smart, and ever so fetching.
Jane Fonda... more»

America's messianic impulses may look a danger. But they were rather convenient for Europe in the Nazi era...
more»

Globalization's first phases, out of Europe and the U.S., now end. The next, driven by every color of the human rainbow, is upon us... more»

Middle East

- Al-Ahram Weekly
- Arab News
- Command Post
- Daily Star (Beirut)
- Dawn (Karachi)
- Debka.com
- The Iranian
- Iraq Resource Center
- Al Jazeera
- Kurdish News
- Jane's Defense
- Middle East MRI
- Military.com
- Pentagon
- Stars & Stripes
- Tehran Times
- Turkish Daily News

Moore ... Daniel Johnson ...
Andrew Brown ... Julian
Baggini ... Charlotte
Hays ... Paul Valley ...
Anne Applebaum ...
Derrick Jackson ...
Catherine Pepinster ... Ruth Gledhill ... Kenneth Woodward ... Roger Kimball ... Stephen
Bainbridge ... Amy
Sullivan ... John Haldane ...
John Cornwall ... Gerard
Baker ... Richard Cohen ...
Timothy Garton Ash ...
Frank Brennan ... Michael Walsh ... Peggy Noonan ...
Peter Schwarz ... Daniel Henninger ... Philip
Lawler ... Joseph Bottum ...
German roundup ...
Ratzinger in WWII

Once an Internet leader, the United States has fallen far behind Japan and other Asian states in deploying broadband. This lag will cost it dearly... more»

Until the link between women and child rearing breaks down, neither corporate boards nor the MIT math faculty are likely to see numerical parity between men and women...
more»

Russians don't really want to return to Stalinism, says
Roy Medvedev. But Stalin remains for Russians a sad focus of lost glory and smart because they read people. Or because they fool people into thinking they can read them... more» ... online colloquy

“Microsoft Word Grammar Checker Are No Good, Scholar Conclude.” Yeah, and that cleared the grammar checker too... more»

Yes, people are primates related to other great apes – gorillas, chimps, and bonobos. The idea never bothered Ernst Mayr... more»

Oh, no! Your children, made violent by TV, will die of melanoma. If a supervolcano doesn't kill them first... more»

In the 1970s, New York was for many a “ruined and broken city.” To Rupert Murdoch it was the chance of a lifetime... more»

Pianist William Kapell: brash, nervous, cocky, funny, thin-skinned. Not an easy man, but a pianist to rival Horowitz... more»

Turkish Press Zaman (Turkey)

Disappointed Democrats might try to find a winning election strategy. Or they can turn to therapy, psychobabble disguised as politics... more»

An indomitable belief in the value of freedom sustained Natan Sharansky during his long years in captivity. It still does... more»

France, but not England, had a revolution in 1848. The French, you see, read Racine, while the English read Shakespeare... more»

pride... more»

Bauhaus intended to supply simple, cheap, mass-produced shelter for wretched proletarians stuck in 1920s rat-infested tenements. Is this an architecture we still need?... more»

Literature now competes with an enormous array of electronic media. Bad news for reading and for books, says Dana Gioia... more»

Humanity owes Gorbachev a vast debt, says Eric Hobsbawm. “All the same, if I were a Russian I would also think of him as the man who brought ruin to his country”... more» ... more»

Legalized abortion was the single biggest factor in ending the crime wave of the 1980s, controlling crime before the crims even reached the cradle... more»

From Pushkin to Dostoyevsky to Brodsky, the scolds and prophets of the Russian intelligentsia have always seemed almost at their last gasp. Almost, but... more»

Anti-Americanism is a family quarrel, as far as France is concerned. How hard for France, now a much smaller power, to accept without gritting its

Albert Speer and his boss had their notorious plans for Berlin. Less known are Josef Stalin's unrealized plans for Moscow... more»

Saul Bellow, who brought to his fiction immigrant's hustle, bookworm's brains, and high-minded ideas, is dead... NYT ... SF Chron ... Reuters ... FT ... Guardian ... Wash Post ... Houston Chron ... Boston Globe ... Xan Brooks ... London Times ... Chic Sun-Times ... Le Monde ... Jon Yardley ... Dan Cryer ... Lorin Stein ... Christopher Hitchens ... Chic Tribune ... Independent ... Telegraph ... WSJ ... Carlin Romano ... Tom McBride

Have newborn babies look at machine mobiles and human face mobiles. Do boys and girls react the same, or not?... more»

The lifelong friendship of Paul Nitze and George Kennan began by accident on a train. In the end it defined U.

teeth the triumph of America... more»

Gay marriage may be the current hot-button topic, but more basic are questions about love, sexuality, and family in a free society. Do we even need marriage?... more»

Saul Bellow's best America would be a Times Square version of a German university, with intellectual rigor on one side and scrambling freedom – sex included – on the other... more» ... more» ... more»

“Let's be clear,” sighs Aime Guibert, amidst a damp row of Bordeaux vines, “wine is dead.” Tell it to a vigneron of the Napa Valley, Australia, or New Zealand... more»

Dickens's Mr. Podsnap fretted about bringing a blush to the cheek of a young person. Podsnappery, U.S. style? Not printing the title of Harry Frankfurt's On Bullshit... more»

Anton Chekhov felt there was “more love for mankind in electricity and steam than in chastity and abstinence from meat.” He meant Leo Tolstoy. Two different writers... more»

How do you bring coherence to a pragmatic,

S. Cold War policy...
more» ... NSC 68 ...
Mr. X's telegram

What a dullard the Victorians made of Charlotte Brontë. She was in truth a filthy genius, the sex-obsessed grandmother of chick-lit... more»

Technology? The web is more than that: it's now an ideology of "freedom" – and theft. It may take Justice Scalia to sort it out... more»

In mathematical proof you take one big, non-obvious step and reduce it to a bunch of smaller, obvious ones. Now, enter the computer... more»

Nostalgia for the 1960s as a time of heroic activism may tempt progressives to recycle those protest styles today. Bad idea... more»

For a young Indian woman in New York, what's best? Dating service? Singles bars? Your parents choosing a vegetarian husband for you?... more»

Subjectively, we all cautious, and moralistic political left? Begin by stressing the critical value of equality, says Michael Walzer... more»

Nostalgia goes back a long way, says Roger Sandall, 10,000 years, in fact. People have been looking back at a better past for as long as there's been a past to look back at... more»

Showman, playwright, philosopher, mystic: Karol Jozef Wojtyla was a towering force of humanistic and spiritual thought who compelled a noisy world to pay attention... more»

From Aristotle to Bernard Shaw and beyond, they were always there. Now they've disappeared. We have major playwrights but no major drama critics... more»

Has a rational, enlightened Europe figured things out, once and for all? Can people live content in a paradise of material pursuit? Nicolas Sarkozy has his doubts... more»

What do Americans want? Freedom, say conservatives. Liberals will not win the debate, or the next election, by trying to change the subject, argues William Galston... more» think we are free to act as we choose. But thinking does not make it so, B.F. Skinner insisted... more»

No sooner does it seem that the novel is safely dead than someone comes along and flogs the poor old horse to life again. Holding the whip: Michel Houellebecq... more»

Since anyone can write a weblog, why is the blogosphere so heavy with white guys? Steven Levy worries... more» ... So does Heather Mac Donald.

There were 7,258 multinationals in 1969. By 2000, there were 63,000, with 80% of the world's industrial output. And that's just for starters, says Peter Drucker... more»

New material is added to Arts & Letters Daily six days a week. We continually test links for reliability. Despite our best efforts, links may fail (often only temporarily) without warning. We apologize for any inconvenience.

New links are added at or near the tops of sections, with older ones sliding down the columns accordingly. Most items will continue to be available for five or more days.

As most links will eventually expire, sometimes after only a few days, we urge readers who see an item worth keeping to save or print it while the link is still valid. Items removed from Arts & Letters Daily are transferred to our 2005 ARCHIVE. We also retain archives for items removed in 2004, 2003, 2002, 2001, 2000, 1999, and 1998.

Our motto, "Veritas odit moras," is from line 850 of Seneca's version of Oedipus. It means "Truth hates delay."

If you find the type size hard to read or if the page is out of date by a day or more, a visit to our HELP PAGE may solve the problem. Instructions for how to make Arts & Letters Daily your homepage are available here.

We've a selection of Arts & Letters Daily gifs and jpgs website owners can use for linking. Click here to see them.

Editor: Denis Dutton

Managing Editor: Tran Huu Dung

Reader suggestions for links are always welcome. Send them here.

Coding, format, and on-site content copyright ©2004

The Chronicle of Higher Education

1255 23rd St. N.W. Suite 700

Washington, D.C. 20037

editor@chronicle.com