Directions: Analyze the political cartoon and answer the following questions.

1. Identify the overall metaphor. What two main things are being compared?

2. Now identify other parts of the metaphor.

3. Whose point of view is being expressed? Is it Roosevelt’s? The American public’s? The cartoonist’s?

4. According to that point of view, what is the problem?

5. If you could add a remedy to the cartoon, what might you draw in?

6. How did Roosevelt plan to solve the Great Depression?
Directions: Analyze the political cartoon and answer the following questions.

1. Identify the overall metaphor. What two main things are being compared?

   The U.S. is being compared to a sick patient.

2. Now identify other parts of the metaphor.

   Roosevelt is the doctor.

   The broken limbs represent the broken parts of the economy like the banking system.

3. Whose point of view is being expressed? Is it Roosevelt’s? The American public’s? The cartoonist’s?

   The cartoon expresses Roosevelt’s point of view.

4. According to that point of view, what is the problem?

   The U.S. economy is sick and needs to be fixed. He believes that he is the man to fix the economic problems of the country.

5. If you could add a remedy to the cartoon, what might you draw in?

   Answers will vary.

6. How did Roosevelt plan to solve the Great Depression?

   Roosevelt’s plan was the New Deal. Answers should reflect the New Deal and its programs that were aimed at fixing different parts of the economy.