

DoHistory

A site that shows you how to piece together the past from the fragments that have survived. Our case study: Martha Ballard.

What is this site?

Who Was Martha Ballard?

Martha Ballard's Diary Online

- If you're interested in... ▼
- Martha Ballard
  - Genealogy
  - How to use primary sources
  - Midwifery & herbal medicine
  - Teaching with this Web site
  - Diaries
  - Films about the past

Doing History

A Midwife's Tale: The Book

A Midwife's Tale: The Film

Archive of Primary Documents

On Your Own

On this day in Martha Ballard's Diary...
"have Cutt grass, Sage and feverfue" (June 20, 1804)

- home
- your interests
- who was Martha?
- Martha's diary
- book
- film
- doing history
- archive
- on your own
- site map
- tech help
- about this site
- search
- project history
- credits and funders
- use and rights
- feedback
- contact us

Created by Film Study Center, Harvard University and hosted by Center for History and New Media, George Mason University.